MINISTERS IN PRIVATE TALK ABOUT CANAL

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
United Nations, N. Y. (AP)—U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld has Britain, France and Egypt talking privately in an effort to settle the 11-week-old Suez Canal dispute.

Hammarskjöld arranged to see British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau and Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi all together today in his 38th-floor office here at U. N. headquarters.

The three foreign ministers met with the secretary general for a 90-minute private conversation last night—their first such get-together since they arrived last week for the U. N. Security Council's current debate on the Suez.

Hammarskjöld invited the ministers "most directly concerned in the controversy," as his office put it, after the council in its first private session on the Suez crisis failed to resolve the deadlock between Egypt and the Western powers.

The West demands international control of the canal, which Egyptian President Nasser nationalized July 26. Egypt insists she can run the waterway herself—and has been doing it since then.

Pineau after the first meeting in Hammarskjöld's office said neither side had changed its position.

Jane and Her 'Best Friend'

Kefauver Still Talking About Oil Bill Debate

Syracuse, N. Y. (AP)—Senator Estes Kefauver charged today that the Republicans have tried to conceal a $5,000 campaign gift from the oil company president whose money was offered to Senator Francis Case (R-S.D.) in the natural gas bill debate.

The Democratic vice presidential nominee, in a speech prepared for delivery at a Syracuse Press Club luncheon, said he was ready to display a photograph of the check for the $5,000.

Two Rice Institute Sophomores Killed In Campus Prank

Houston, Texas (AP)—Two Rice Institute sophomores were killed on the campus here last night while carrying out a prank.

Karl B. Bailey, 19, of Houston, was suffocated by carbon monoxide as he clung to the ladder inside the campfire—the combination smokestack and bell tower of the mechanical laboratory building.

Cecil William Carroll, 19, also of Houston, fell to his death when he started climbing up the inside of the smokestack to rescue his friend.

The youths and two others intended to climb up inside the smokestack and hang from the top of it an automobile tire, the trophy of the winning section in the so-called tire grab. This is a greased tire, for possession of which groups of students scuffle on a playing field during the events of the freshman guidance program.

The other two youths, Ernest Montagne, 18, of Galveston, and James Michalek, 17, of Houston, said they thought that by hanging the tire from the top of the campfire they could keep other groups of students from stealing the trophy.

The Fund is in the hands of The Warren Foundation, Inc., where it is kept invested and the income periodically returned to the Association. Mr. Rasmussen reminded the Warren County Commissioners that there is now $10,000 in the Permanent Endowment Fund which has been obtained by public

Ike Receives Noisy Welcome In Pittsburgh; Stevenson Hammers at "Big Business"

By WARREN ROGERS, JR.—Seattle, (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson announced today the formation of a 50-member National Business Council of "well-known leaders in business and finance" who are supporting his bid for the presidency.

The Democratic nominee said the step is in line with his view that "it is well for both parties to be as inclusive as possible—to try to speak for the best interests of all groups and thus for all the people." Through it, he expressed the hope, his views can be made known on the "respective roles and mutual interests of business and government."

The announcement came shortly after he had denounced the Eisenhower administration as a big business administration "narrowly representative of a limited interest."

The denunciation came as he told a wildly cheering Seattle audience last night that the United States government should represent "the interests of all the people and of no narrower group."

Without naming Eisenhower, Stevenson said the nation's future in this age of social revolt and communism and nuclear power "will be met only by an administration—by a president, an executive—who assumes the full responsibilities of his elected office."

"Undue delegation of responsibility . . . diminishes the office of the presidency," he said. An estimated 6,000 persons turned out to hear Stevenson at Seattle's Civic Auditorium.

Stevenson announced today that honorary co-chairman of his National Business Council for Stevenson are William L. Clayton of Houston and Joseph P. Kennedy of New York.

The group, which will have its headquarters at the Hotel Mayflower in Washington, said its purpose will be to make more available. (Turn to Page Twelve)

Pittsburgh (AP)—President Eisenhower accused the Democrats last night of practicing "political irresponsibility at its worst" and said they stand for inflation and a centralized federal government.

For his own administration he claimed "almost four years of clear accomplishments." He received a roaring ovation from a packed house in Pittsburgh's Hunt Armory who heard in person his address, carried nationwide by radio and television.

This traditionally Democratic city gave him an ear-splitting ovation. Crowds cheered him on the 14-mile drive from the airport to his hotel and again along the route to the 8,000-seat armory, which was filled to overflowing. Officials estimated a crowd of 5,000 greeted the President on his arrival at the Greater Pittsburgh Airport and an additional 100,000 lined the streets on his route to downtown Pittsburgh. The crowd was one of the biggest of his campaign.

Eisenhower again rapped back at the proposals of his Democratic opponent, Adlai E. Stevenson, calling for a halt in the draft as soon as that is possible consistent with national safety and for his country to take the lead toward suspension of big-scale nuclear tests.

And he devoted much of his speech to a reply to Stevenson's campaign assertion that the Eisenhower administration has favored big business at the expense of the average American.

"This amounts to saying that you government has no interest in the people of America," Eisenhower said. "This amounts to the charge that your government has betrayed your trust. Such talk is political irresponsibility at its worst."

Eisenhower said the facts are that labor's share of the national income is up, that labor unions have the best contracts in history, that federal welfare programs have been extended to the widest dimensions ever.

He said he wondered just what sort of people the Democrats think Americans are — "and I wonder what sort of a man they think I am."

He tackled Stevenson again—without mentioning him by name—on the draft and H-bomb proposals.

NEED CD POLICE

A plea has been issued for more Civil Defense Auxiliary Police trainees to turn out for the series of classes which are starting at 7:30 p. m. this evening in the small court room. David Levine, Warren CD head, has stated that a particular need exists for able-bodied volunteers from within the borough. It is hoped the present CD Auxiliary police force of 20 men may be upped to 50. Sandy Secor will instruct the series of classes. All able-bodied men are welcome to take the course.

Total Popular Vote Is Predicted by Mentalist

Los Angeles, (AP)—Jack Swimmer, who says he is a mentalist, yesterday wrote down what he said would be the total popular vote in the nation, the state and the county for the two presidential candidates in the Nov. 6 election.

The predictions were sealed in a box and turned over to Gordon Nesvig, Board of Supervisors clerk, in the presence of Supervisor Burton Chase. Swimmer gave Chase a $5,000 check. He said that if his vote predictions are off one vote the check can go to charity.

Three-Year-Old Tot Is Found Safe After Wide Search

A little young lady from Hemlock Street Extension is observing her third birthday today but it is her parents who will probably remember the anniversary.

Yesterday afternoon, shortly after one o'clock, Jane, was discovered missing by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Huren.

She had been playing in the yard with her puppy and both had vanished. Mrs. Huren called Penn Furnace to notify them that Mr. Huren would not report for work that afternoon. She was connected to David Levine, head of Warren Civil Defense, and he turned in a call for the 105-man CD Rescue Unit.

State police were notified and Troopers Joe Mastrian, Bill Timmons and George Stoltz went to the scene. Members of Field and Stream Club, and volunteers from Glade, North Warren and Pleasant fire departments were also contacted.

Approximately 100 men were combing the heavily wooded area near the house and more were arriving by the minute when word was flashed about 4 o'clock that the young lady had been located unharmed.

A party of searchers had heard the whine of a dog from above them and when they investigated there was Jane lying on the ground with her pup beside her. Neither princess nor pup suffered any ill effects.

Nixon Campaigning in Home State of Calif.

Oakland, Calif., (AP)—Vice President Nixon brought his Republican presidential campaign expedition to his own state of California today with an appeal for small business support.

California, Nixon told newsmen accompanying him on his airborne swing around the country, is one of two states on which Eisenhower asked him for specific political reports.

The other state, Nixon said, is Texas. His party spent yesterday there engaging in some campaign oratory, but largely bringing into the personal appeal of the vice president and of Mrs. Pat Nixon.

Their goal was to develop what Nixon called the Republicans' good chance to hold usually Democratic voters who swung to President Eisenhower when he carried Texas in 1952.

Warren Area C. of C. Urges Multi-Purpose Armory Here

The Warren Area Chamber of Commerce last night passed a resolution asking the Federal Government to build a new multi-purpose armory in this community to replace the inadequate facilities now in use by the National Guard unit in Warren. The vote was unanimous and Chamber President Neil Culbertson immediately appointed a three-man committee to formulate plans for asking the Government to take action.

The committee includes Leroy Schneck, chairman, William R. Walker, and James Torrance. Mr. Schneck is an officer in the Army Reserve; Mr. Walker is Commander of the Chief Compliance Post, American Legion; and Mr. Torrance is a member of the official Armory Board.

Brinks Gang Sentenced To Life in Prison

Walpole, Mass. (AP)—Eight men convicted of the $1,219,000 Brink's robbery spent their first day of what is to be a "natural lifetime" behind the massive concrete walls and the steel bars of State Prison.

Superior Court Judge Felix Forte sentenced the men to the prison yesterday "for the rest of their natural lives" with no chance for parole consideration for at least 20 years.

Joseph F. McGinnis, 52, called by the prosecution the brains of the nation's biggest cash robbery, actually was given eight life terms, to be served concurrently, as an accessor before armed robbery, 8-10 years as an accessory before breaking and entering and 2½-3 years for receiving stolen goods.

The other seven were sentenced to life for armed robbery, 8-10 years for breaking and entering and 2 years for conspiracy, the latter sentence to be served in a house of correction after the State Prison terms are completed.

Chief defense counsel Paul T. Smith asked that the sentences be limited to 10 years, arguing that the defendants are all middle-aged and that no violence was used in the January 17, 1950, robbery.

Dist. Atty. Garrett H. Byrne argued that the "decent people of the community" looked to the court to give "these potential murderers" life sentences with no parole privileges until after the expiration of 20 years.

Community Chest Kick-Off Dinner At Beaty Monday

Byron W. Knapp, vice president of the Warren Community Chest, Inc., and chairman of the Chest Budget Committee will be the keynote speaker for the kick-off dinner meeting of the 1956 campaign to be held Monday evening, October 15 in Beaty Cafeteria at 6:30 P. m.

All volunteer workers in the chest campaign are invited to attend this free dinner and are urged to do so by making reservations either with their Captain or at Chest campaign headquarters, telephone 6649.

Marion Pettegrew, Chest President, said today that this free dinner is paid for by a small group of civic minded persons and business firms. The cost of the kick-off meeting is not paid for from Chest Funds, Mr. Pettegrew emphasized.

Besides the keynote address by Mr. Knapp, officials are making arrangements for several surprise features so that the evening will be educational, informative and enter training. Special instructions to the residential workers, who start their solicitations on Tuesday, will be given by Mrs. Frank Perrin, chairman of the Residential Division.

The general campaign for $66,500 will last from October 15 to 22; this week, however, the campaign got underway in Warren's industrial plants who are conducting employee solicitation.

MORE ABOUT NEW HIGH SCHOOL

(By JANE WALKER KOFF)

This newspaper is dedicated to the impartial distribution of information through which its readers may formulate an opinion on questions of local interest. You must have access to all knowledge of what is being done for or against your best interests. You are entitled to know how your money is being spent by the officials you have elected. Without information supplied by a free press, it is impossible for you, the taxpayers, to intelligently decide whom to elect to public office whether that office be County Commissioner, member of Borough Council, or member of the Board of Education.

Since the publication in the Times-Mirror on August 23 of our editorial on the High School issue there have been many discussions on the streets and in the homes of our community concerning the location of the High School. That is as it should be. We hoped that when we printed our views that the town would start thinking about educational facilities in Warren.

Figures Reveal Substantial Savings Could Be Made by Remodeling Present Building

Figures showing the comparative costs of erecting a new high school building or remodeling the present structure were made public at a Monday night meeting of Joint Committee of Warren Area Joint School Board.

The architect firms of Lawrie and Green of Harrisburg and Myers, Krider, Werle and Ellenberger of Erie had been requested at the previous Joint Committee meeting to bring up to date their figures of almost two years ago.

Both architectural firms showed that substantial savings would be made if the present structure at the corner of Market street and Second avenue was remodeled and a new addition constructed.

Myers, Krider, Werle and Ellenberger estimated that a saving of $305,200 could be made if the present structure was remodeled. Overall costs for alterations to the Market street site would be $1,873,800, that figure including $165,000 purchase price for adjoining territory.

The MKWE firm's figures showed that a Memorial Field site would cost an estimated $2,093,650, with assessed valuation costs of including a $25,750 purchase price for necessary adjoining lands.

Most expensive estimate of MKWE was for the proposed Swick site. At that location, estimated costs of $2,171,150 included only $8,000 for purchase of necessary adjoining lands. Dr. Carl E. Whipple, school superintendent, said the $8,000 was unrealistically low, probably did not include all the adjoining land for school property that had been considered.

The architectural firm of Lawrie and Green of Harrisburg stated the remodeling of the present high school structure would cost an estimated $1,789,700, some $516,300 less than estimated costs for a new building on the two Swick properties.

YANK BATTING ORDER SHAKEN UP BY CASEY

Brooklyn, (AP)—Big Don Newcombe carried the heavy Brooklyn burden against young Johnny Kucks of the New York Yankees in today's final World Series game at Ebbets Field with the championship hanging in the balance.

Manager Casey Stengel revised his Yankee lineup, benching Enos Slaughter and Joe Collins. Elston Howard took Slaughter's place in left field and Bill Skowron replaced Collins at first. The result was a revised batting order.

The Dodgers' manager, Walter Alton, stuck with the same lineup that won yesterday's 1-0 thriller to square the series at three wins each.

Big Newk never has won a series game.

The 30-year-old righthander was the top winner in the majors, however, during the regular season with a 27-7 record.

Kucks, 23, never has started a Series game but has appeared four times in relief, twice last year and twice this year.

The lineups:

Leader Predicting Clark Victory by 150,000 to 200,000

Harrisburg (AP)—A "conservative" 150,000 to 200,000 vote victory for Joseph S. Clark, Democratic candidate for U. S. Senator, is predicted by Governor Leader.

And Leader and Senator Joseph M. Barr, Democratic state chairman, both predicted that Adlai Stevenson, the party's presidential candidate, would carry Pennsylvania in the November 6 election.

At his news conference Leader, however, said Stevenson would win the state by a somewhat smaller margin than the predicted Clark victory over U. S. Senator James H. Duff, Republican candidate for re-election.

The governor also discussed these other subjects at his news conference:

Newspapers—Leader said Pennsylvania newspapers generally are doing a good job in covering the campaign.

Mental health — Pennsylvania will have a mental health program laid out for five to 10 years in the future at the end of his administration, Leader said.

Travel Consultant Conferring With Motor Club Staff

This week the Warren County Motor Club is being visited by Art Auerbach, a Travel Consultant of the National Touring Bureau, AAA Headquarters, Washington, D. C.

The Travel Consultant program is a three-fold activity. Mr. Auerbach says, that has proven to be beneficial to over 100 AAA Clubs. Essentially, it covers the following aspects: (1) training of both new and experienced counselors "on the job"; (2) travel schools and (3) travel department analysis. In conjunction with the program, a unique 35 min color slide library is used.

The Warren County Motor Club has been especially desirous of obtaining this service now because it will be in even better position to prepare complete travel routings for its members heading south to avoid the approaching winter weather.

Commenting on the presence of Mr. Auerbach a club official said today: "This is just another fine example, to be sure that the Club's members are always 'happy members.' That's our motto!"

New Popular Knits Wash Easily by Hand

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

KNITS are bigger news this year than in any year past. Sweaters are enjoying a resurgence. Knitted coats, jackets, dresses, costumes and accessories are fairly rushing off the machines.

Of the new items, the tapered polo coat is done in a flat but bulky stitch.

Dresses often have drawstring waists. In many cases, the drawstring produces the bloused look that's in great favor this fall. The bloused line is just above the hips, making the skirt look very skinnny.

Caring for these knits is largely a matter of reading the labels. Generally speaking, they're best washed by hand in the basin or bath tub.

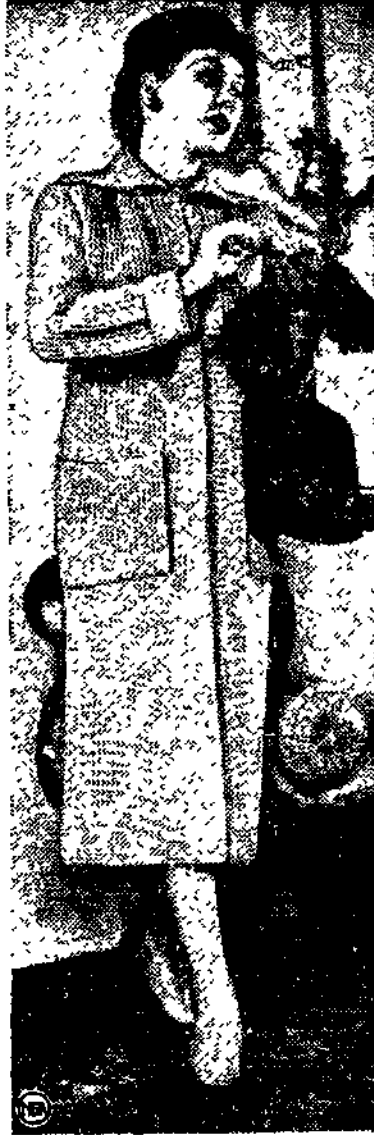

All wools should be washed only in lukewarm soap or detergent suds, rinsed in lukewarm water. Wool should get an extra serving of suds because wool fibers absorb more suds than others.

Unless a tag or label says the garment won't shrink, assume it will fit better if it's blocked while drying.

Heavy coats should be done in a large tub with lukewarm suds and rinses. After its washing, a knit coat should be blotted in a beach towel.

Then a plastic sheet should be laid on the floor. The coat should be spread on it and smoothed and shaped by hand. Seams and bindings should be pulled gently into line.

When the top layer is nearly dry, the coat should be turned and patted into shape again.

Bulky knits are high on fall's fashion roster. They can be laundered successfully, with care, in the bath tub.

The presidential campaign song in 1900 was "Prosperity, Protection and McKinley."

Ornithologists have found that birds sing an average of 18 hours daily most of the year.

THE TROPHY and the intrepid hunters who bagged it. The question is: "Who gets to keep the head, and have it stuffed to hang over the fireplace?" Brought down by a volley of shots in the Canadian woods, this 1900-pound moose attracted a large crowd to Don Finley's Sporting Goods Store. The broadly palmed antlers of the huge animal have a combined total of 29 points. Left to right, the three local sportsmen responsible for his downfall are Neil Culbertson, Stan Doeblner and Al Loranger. Timesphoto by Saylor.

Mirrored in Our Times

In "Pittsburghesque"—we read—"The Allegheny County Bar Association, referring to the appearance of judges, prosecutors and lawyers on WQED in its 'Attorney's At Law' series, puts it this way. "If the camera cannot come into the courtroom, then the court is coming to the camera in Allegheny County" . . . During our recent trial, which concerned itself with armed bank robbery, Judge Alexander C. Flick, Jr., made headlines throughout the state, when he permitted photographers to take pictures in the courtroom. Naturally, there were certain necessary and understandable stipulations imposed on the camera bearers, but nevertheless, the president judge of Warren-Forrest counties made news (this was in addition to the story of the Supreme Court upholding his decision in the Commonwealth vs Norman W. Moon proceedings). Since Judge Flick's decision in the matter of courtroom picture-taking, surveys have been taken among other jurists

The Style Shop makes news, too. Just picture yourself in the autumn styles in shirts—created by famous Tru-Val. Smart, conservative checks—dashing "Ivy League" stripes—new, brilliantly tailored and casually colorful. Hats off, too—if the hat that is doffed, so gallantly, is fashioned by Mallory!

Every once in a while, we are still amazed at the lack of local knowledge of borough government. Councilmen receive no pay for their public service—and the office of Burgess is not full-time (every man to serve in this capacity, must, of necessity, earn his living elsewhere)—all of the men who serve you in local government are public servants, taxpayers and interested in doing the best possible job for you. They operate on a budget and spend your money as wisely as possible

These men try to speak for you—and nobody even tries to dictate as to policy (except for the borough solicitor, and he dictates only as to legality).

These days, it's impossible to remain oblivious to the political picture. Both parties are hard at it and November 6 is not too far away. In Warren's 51 precincts, we note the following registration (Warren county, that is): Republicans 12,864; Democrats, 5796; Non-partisan, 348; Progressives, 143; Socialists, 3—a total of 19,154 voters. Of these, in the borough, 5118 are registered Republicans, 1690, Democrats; 174 Non-partisan and 57 Progressives. Statistics are interesting—but don't fail to cast your vitally important vote!

Many factors can combine to change the complexion of things. Today we viewed several innovations that could literally change the air with excitement. How would you feel if you suddenly spied a lady wearing stretch stockings in a hue of brilliant red? We all enjoy the vivid shades of autumn foliage—but believe us, we saw hosiery fashioned in those same colors! Jewelry seems to be more exotic, too—and more tremendous. Shoe shades and costume colors switch from whites and pastels to rich, warm tones of fall. Leaves burning herald the approach of a new season. But, we were talking of the complexion of things—your complexion (all over!) Summer takes its toll and most gals seek a hand and body lotion that will repair the ravages of sun and wind. In this day and age lanolin content is a "must"—for this is nature's magic ingredient that softens, tones and restores moisture to your skin.

HOWARD TO REORGANIZE

Coury Journal The board of directors of the J W and A P Howard Tannery have started proceedings under the federal bankruptcy law in which a petition will be filed, asking authorization to reorganize the firm. If permission is granted, a specific plan for reorganization will be presented at a later date. The reorganization petition was agreed upon at a meeting of the board after the Citizens National Bank, holder of a first mortgage on the East Main street property, started foreclosure action.

Farm Fire a Tragic Waste

Fire is bad business anytime and for everybody . . . but it's particularly bad on the farm where a family's livelihood and home are both at stake. When the barn above was totally destroyed by fire last year, the direct dollar loss to this Midwestern farm family was estimated to be $50,000. The real loss in terms of crippled earning power and one family's well-being can never be estimated. Total direct cost of fires to American farmers last year was estimated by the United States Department of Agriculture to be more than $150,000,000. The USDA and the National Fire Protection Association are co-sponsors of Fire Prevention Week, October 7-13.

(By JANE WALKER KOPF)

on schools, we must look at the whole financial picture in Warren. We have seventeen or eighteen miles of unpaved streets in the borough for which there will be demands for paving. An example of this is Fourth avenue. Anyone who drives on it even once in a while will agree that its condition is shocking. When the state cites us, we will be forced to build a sewage disposal plant at an expense approximating $1,500,000.00.

Our police force is substantially smaller in relation to our population than the average for other communities in our state. To overcome this condition, they are employed on a 48 hour week without overtime pay. To keep and enlarge our police force, Council will be obliged to offer them more pay or better hours.

The fire department is understaffed according to the fire underwriters.

The salaries of our firemen and other Borough employees must be increased commensurate with inflation and the steady advance of wage rates in other occupations. This was apparent a year ago when our Council found it necessary to drastically curtail a realistically proposed budget, then request the court to permit an increase in real estate millage to meet even the inadequate budget approved.

There is every possibility that we will be faced with a wage tax to meet the expenses of the Borough on top of increased millage for school taxes.

It is evident that we cannot, without impairing the high credit rating enjoyed by the Borough and our School Board up to this time, make excessive capital outlays for schools, streets, recreational facilities, sewage disposal plants and other items and in addition assume the full burden imposed by expanded service and maintenance costs.

In the educational field there has been agitation for an addition to Seneca Street School and increased facilities at East Street School. Our national magazines and newspapers have told us of the federal government's alarming reports on the number of teachers who are leaving the profession to seek higher paying jobs. We should see to it that Warren pays higher teacher salaries to keep and attract the best possible educators. We could have the most modern of schoolrooms but without good teachers in them our money would have been most foolishly spent.

The proposal to remodel and enlarge our existing high school would change its appearance both inside and out. The entire third floor would be taken off, the interior drastically changed, and of course the addition would be of substantial size. Some of the propaganda which has been circulated that the building would be unsafe is pure nonsense. No reputable architect would recommend spending public funds on a project which would not be safe and suitable for our needs.

As we promised you in our other editorial, we are publishing the financial estimates made by the architects. From these figures, you will see that we save a substantial sum by leaving the high school where it is. There is not only the saving in building costs, but saving in indirect costs to the borough of road maintenance, sewage lines, and bus transportation should the school be located outside the borough limits.

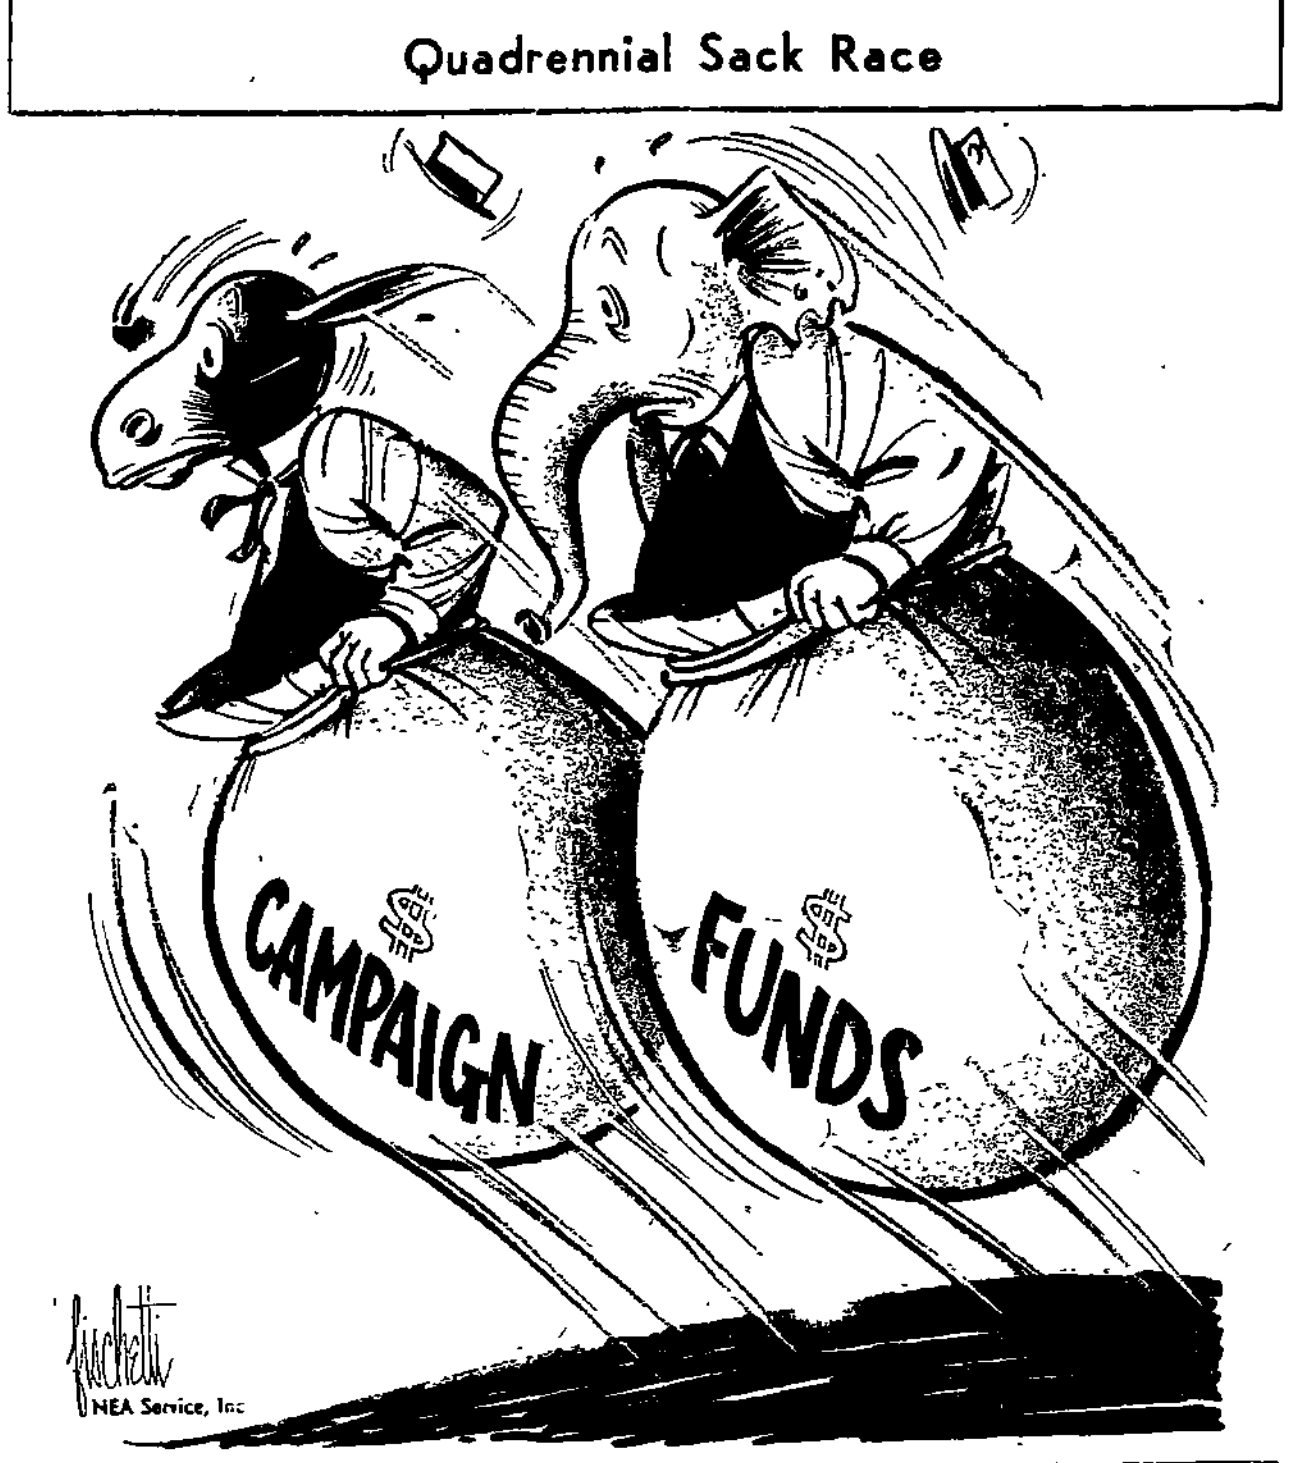

Lastly, even leaving financial considerations aside, we must not forget that it is to our children's advantage to have the school located near our existing facilities. The importance of our library, churches and other public buildings cannot be overlooked.

She has a personal as well as a civic interest in the high school project through these children who will soon be attending Warren High.)

Here and There

Regarding a picture that appeared on page 18 of last Thursday's issue our old friend and contributor E. W. Honhart, of Starbrick, offers these thoughts: "Dear Editor—It does me a world of good to see the picture of a raft I knew about, back there in the long ago. The item read 'it is difficult to find anyone who remembers anything about those rafting days on the Allegheny river.' Well, the word says 'seek and ye shall find.' Now if you hath sought not, how will you know? The raft in the picture was the property of the late B. F. Mead, commonly known as Frank, my neighbor on Yankee Bush. The tract of timber from whence it came was on Jackson Run, from the Lander road south to the top of the hill joining the Frantz farm, and to the east by land of the late Marshall Gray. It was a good stand of hemlock timber. They peeled the bark in May and June, 1895; let the contract of making in the early fall, to the late W. R. Frantz. The late George Lee was hewer, and with two other timber makers and some help from his brother, Henry, they finished before that long and cold winter set in. I remember that winter as I never missed a day on another job in seven months. The Mead timber tract is still in the family, owned by a grandson, Ralph Mead, Jr., and is about 200 rods from the Honhart homestead. It was hauled and banked at the Conewango Creek, south of North Warren. I have proof that this raft was the only raft that was rafted in at North Warren in the '90's. A full raft never came out of the Conewango. They came in platforms and pieces, several pieces make a river fleet. Pieces were made from platforms and coupled up in the rivers. The picture showed that it was taken on Sunday, as there was no activity—those on the raft were 'snoopers'. If Mr. Mead were there they would soon find themselves back on shore. You will note this picture was taken after a heavy snow fall. The oars are not in proper shape yet as the rafting is not finished, nor is the shanty built. There were many rafts in the Pittsburgh market that spring of 1896. With few buyers and prices low, this raft was held until fall before it was sold. So now as the raft is sold and the money spent, let us look forward for spring and another season of bark peeling, and a raft to Pittsburgh the next spring, 1897."

According to the Weekly News-letter of the Pennsylvania Game News the archers opened their special buck season in perfect weather October 1. About 22,000 of them, a record number for this state, bought a license in time to participate in the opening day hunt. A large percentage set out with strung bows and full quivers of broadhead arrows to stalk or waylay an antlered deer amidst the beauties of autumn in the forests of Pennsylvania. A few buck kills were reported in the early days of the season. It is anticipated, however, that most of the deer brought down by hunting arrows will be taken later in the season. There will be less foliage on trees and brush in northern counties then, where it will therefore be less difficult to see these big game animals.

And while we are on the subject of Game News here is a special release from the Game Commission in answer to many inquiries for information on the 1956 hunting hours in Pennsylvania: 1. All shooting hours of the hunting season are based on Eastern Standard Time. 2. On October 20, sportsmen may begin hunting for grouse, wild turkeys and squirrels at 7 a. m., EST. 3. On October 27, however, there will be no hunting for any wild bird or animal, including rabbits, ring-necked pheasants, quail, waterfowl and other small game in season prior to 9 a. m., EST. This information also appears on every current hunting license.

Washington Letter

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Adlai Stevenson may be telling his crowds that he acquired his tan campaigning—and not on a golf course. But the truth is that Stevenson used to be something of a golfer himself.

His sons let this cat out of the bag in their current interview in Collier's magazine.

The boys relate that hunting and fishing are now Stevenson's favorite sports, and that he taught his sons how to shoot duck and pheasant and to trap muskrat. Tennis is his real delight, he plays an aggressive game and he can still beat his sons. Then Adlai, Jr., cuts in with this quote: "Yes, Dad even used to play a good game of golf. He shot in the low 80's. He's still got a silver cup around the house he won in 1941 to prove it. But ever since he's been in politics, Dad just hasn't had time to play golf any more."

IN PHOENIX recently, Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) told a school for Republican precinct committeemen that, "the great issue of the presidential campaign this year is that we are free because we are the children of God" and "the Democrats have left that out of their platform."

Senator Goldwater waved a copy of the Democratic platform as he spoke. He charged that, "you have to read the last paragraph of this tripe before you find a reference to God. There the Democrats ask His help—but I don't think they'll get it."

The Republican platform refers to God in the first paragraph and continually throughout the document."

THE FIVE-MINUTE radio and television political broadcasts which both Republicans and Democrats are using extensively this year have turned into something of a flop.

These shorts take five minutes off the end of some of the most popular half-hour entertainment programs on the network night programs. Cutting these star attractions to 25 minutes makes regular listeners mad, and they frequently turn off the political trailer.

The main objection, however, is that these programs are hard to find for anyone who might want to sit up and listen. The five-minute spots can't be listed in the usual newspaper programs. And there's only one such spot on a network each evening.

In short, you have to have your set on all night, and tuned to the station, to stumble on one of these things.

ONE OF THE BIG Republican hopes to take Michigan in the coming election is based on the fact that 1957 model automobile production is now in high gear. The state should be enjoying record prosperity and high employment in the weeks just before November 6.

In the 1956 sales slump last summer, unemployment in the auto industry was high. There were many rumors that manufacturers would be urged to bring out their new models earlier, to give the national economy a shot in the arm. Now the models are coming out, but industry spokesmen say it's a competitive move within the industry, and that politics has nothing to do with it.

REPUBLICAN CHARGES that there were "130 millionaires" attending the Democratic national convention in Chicago as delegates or alternates bring this reply from Democratic headquarters in Washington:

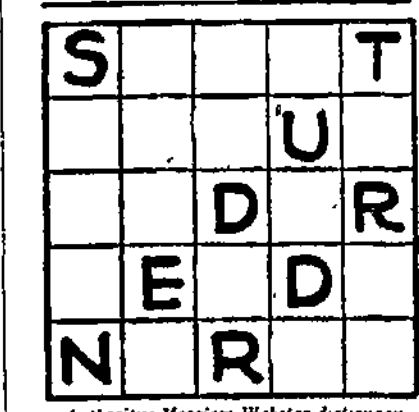

"We can't find them. We wish the Republicans would furnish us with a list, so we could ask them for contributions."

The only lists so far have been compiled by newspapers. They contain a total of only 30 names, and most of them have proved conclusively to Democratic fund raisers that they aren't millionaires, and that they have already contributed to their limit.

Park Department Spends Busy Month Repairing Damage

According to the October report of Borough Manager George Geracimos the major portion of the time during the month was spent in hauling top soil, fine grading and seeding between the sidewalk and along the curb on the newly paved streets. The excellent weather during the past two weeks has enabled the Department to complete this work.

Storm damage caused the removal of one tree, and three street trees have been stumped out preparatory to filling, and another tree removed.

Playground equipment was removed after the beginning of the school term. We had previously removed the equipment after the supervised playground period, but this new practice permits the use of the playground facilities for an additional two weeks period.

Lawns of all parks and playgrounds were mowed three times. Airport mowed once and all hedges have been trimmed once, and the program of weeding flower and shrub beds is being continued.

The Crescent Park dike damaged in the March flood is in the process of being repaired, graded and seeded.

Boy Scout Council Makes Preparations For County Drive

Scouters of the Chief Commissioner Council, Boy Scouts of America began final preparations this week for their first coordinated campaign during the week of October 15 to 22.

Following plans used in many areas, the Scouters will cooperate with the Community Chest in areas covered by the Warren and Corry Chests. In non-chest areas of the county, Scouters will campaign independently.

In preparation for the campaign, Scouts will distribute a special edition of the council bulletin door to door in the county. It is expected that these will all be distributed by Saturday of this week. Persons missed may have a campaign, a change from the usual February period.

Christian Service Guild of the WUB church will hold its regular meeting at 8:00 p.m. Thursday at the parsonage. Mrs. Gladys Meelen will be the leader. Mrs. Thelma Young her assistant. Project for this month's meeting will be contributions for migrants' work.

Warren-Forest Council Girl Scouts of America, Inc.

A Community Chest Red Feather Service Agency

"On my honor, I will try: To do my duty to God and my country, to help other people at all times, to obey the Girl Scout Laws." This is the promise each Girl Scout makes when she joins her troop.

One of the eleven fields of interest in the Girl Scout program is "Community Life". and many instances of community service stand out in the past year's record of Girl Scout activities throughout the Warren-Forest Council. Troop 1 of Youngsville chose "Community Service" as its theme for the entire year and, as a result of its outstanding accomplishments, has been awarded a plaque by Parents' Magazine, which will be officially awarded to this Troop at the annual Court of Awards on November 1st.

Other forms of community service carried out by various troops throughout the Council include tray favors made for Warren General Hospital patients on holidays, puzzles and scrapbooks for the children's ward of the hospital. One Brownie troop made a quilt which was given to the Children's Aid Society Spring Creek Girl Scouts operate a children's library from donated books. Youngsville Scouts have recruited blood donors and plan to serve as library aides when the Youngsville Public Library is completed. Other troops have made bandages for the Cancer Society.

The service project designated for this year is participation in the Needlework Guild in which troops donated two new articles which they have either purchased or made. Last year several troops participated in the Needlework Guild Ingathering, and already plans are being made by additional troops to take part in this project again this year.

Only a few of the specific community service projects have been mentioned. There are many more—perhaps some which are done in the traditional Girl Scout manner and of which many people are entirely unaware. Their slogan, "Do a good turn daily", often takes the form of a community service, be it large or small.

"To help other people at all times"—giving service is an important part of the Girl Scout Promise. It means that Girl Scouts have been willing and ready to give service ever since their organization was started—it means that Girl Scouts will continue to give service whenever and wherever the need arises.

copy by calling at the Scout office.

Among the community chairmen who are completing their teams this week are: Akeley, William Hale; Clarendon, Pat Valone; Irvine, Ross Walters; Garland, Frank Stec; Ludlow, Enoch Nelson; Tidoute, Raymon Bush; Glade Township, to be announced; Youngsville, Plummer Mourer; Grand Valley, Norman Wittig; Kinzua, James Pompho; Lottsville, Harold Malley; Russell, Ralph Swanson; Sugar Grove, Burt Schoonover and Cliff Storms; Sheffield, Robert Swanson; Pleasant township and Starbuck, to be solicited by the Warren Chest.

Many of the communities are planning one night campaigns. In these communities, residents are asked to turn on their porch lights to enable solicitors to find their way. Special announcements will be made in communities planning this type of campaign.

layers Secure Many New Members in Unique Stunt

Warren Players Club joined in celebrating Warren's Old Fashion Days last weekend by operating special membership booth from 10 to 9:00 p. m. Friday at the busy street entrance of the etzger-Wright store.

From this vantage point, Mary arland, publicity chairman, welcomed downtown bargain day shoppers to membership in Warren Players. Her garb, reflecting a Gay Nineties period, was set off by disc jockey Dick Bove's mustache, red bow tie and duster, he presented a recorded program of old time melodies, capturing the spirit of the good ol' days.

According to Dick Rapp, Players president, many newcomers took advantage of this opportunity to join Warren Players. He reminds, also, that memberships remain open until reservations have been made for opening night, October 18, when the initial production, "Peg O' My Heart", will be under the direction of the Dick Andersens.

The play, in three acts, centers out a young Irish lass who comes to America for a formal education. Peg, as she's called by her father, will be portrayed in the Players' cast by a veteran super, Lois Byham.

St. Joseph's Unit Has Many Plans Under Way

The October meeting of St. Joseph's Parent-Teacher Unit met last evening with a fairly good attendance. Robert McCoy presided over the business session. The new music teacher, Mrs. James Potter, was welcomed to the group and responded with a few words. The parents are grateful to have music continued as the children do like it and it is considered a very necessary study.

Mr. McCoy introduced Earl Duncan, who will represent the unit at the meetings of the Citizens Committee in regard to a new high school. He gave a report of the meetings he attended and answered questions pertaining to the different locations desirable for a new high school.

It was voted to change the next meeting to November 6, the first Tuesday, due to Education Week being observed by the high school and many parents desiring to attend the latter. It was written in the minutes as a permanent change for each year the November meeting will be the first Tuesday.

Plans were completed for the spaghetti supper to be held October 16 with Mrs. Freda Davis and Mrs. Jennie Book, co-chairmen.

It was announced that plans will be made for a spring dance, probably St. Patrick's Day, to be left to a committee to choose the desirable date and entertainment.

Prayers were requested for the repose of the soul of Sister Winifred who died Friday at St. Mary's. She was a teacher at St. Joseph's for many years.

At 9:00 o'clock Joseph Williamson, administrator of the Warren General Hospital gave a very interesting talk about his work and the many expenses involved in the running of such an institution. He mentioned many items which the average person does not realize and the tremendous expense of keeping up with the latest improvements which make a better and more efficient service to the patients. He also explained many changes planned for the near future and he left his audience with a very clear picture of his work and his pleasant manner won for him many new friends.

The committee served a very nice buffet lunch from a table decorated with Halloween colors and centered with a real Jack o' Lantern.

Speaking on astronomy and using the topic "Oh, My Stars," he explained the galactic and solar systems, showed movement of the planets around the sun, their relative distance and magnitudes, also of plans for releasing man-made satellites.

Concluding, he recommended that all visit the observatory on the Hearts Content road, where interest in Mars has brought out as many as 100 persons in a single evening. He also recommended reading "Handbook of the Heavens."

McGarry and Mary Ellen Bailey were welcomed into the membership; Ruth Rapp, chairman of public affairs committee, and Helen Boiney, head of the public relations committee, with their workers, were commended for the success of Business Women's Week; Margaret Drivas, finance chairman, reported on the rummage sale's success and thanked all who helped.

Storage

Clean First

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

THESE are the days to get ready for that first hot day next spring. Start by exercising care in storing summer garments for the winter months.

The first requirement is cleanliness. All cotton and synthetic dresses should be washed out thoroughly. Be sure to get all the starch out, as it's a prime item of diet for silverfish. Dresses or suits that can't be washed should go to the cleaner.

Whether clothes are ironed or not depends on the space you have available. If you have a big closet with no other uses, iron the clothes by all means. If the clothes have to be stored in cartons or drawers, don't bother. They'll have to be done over next spring anyway.

If you can hang the clothes, select wooden hangers or cover the wire ones. Moisture during the winter can cause the metal to leave rust spots on the clothes. Hang each garment carefully and don't push them too close together. If the closet is not fairly air-tight, tissue paper can be spread over the shoulders of the hangers to prevent dust.

If you pack (unused suitcases are useful), avoid using newspaper as dividers. Long contact may leave this fall's news printed on the front of your dress. Tissue paper is a good choice. Divide the colors with paper.

Label the cartons carefully, since you may need your cotton dresses before your bathing suits.

Children left alone and trapped by fire accounted for one out of every three child fire victims last year in this country, estimates the National Fire Protection Association.

Geanie Is Housewife-Mermaid-Welder-Seamstress

Geanie Brooks is a bewitching mermaid in her underwater ballerina role.

... Geanie poses as a welder, a trade she learned when working in a shipyard.

BY ALICIA HART, NEA Beauty Editor

BROOKSVILLE, Fla.—(NEA)—Geanie Brooks has been a welder, carpenter, tractor-and-truck driver, store clerk, fruit packer, waitress, lumberer and an electrical wireman.

At present, she keeps house for a husband and four children, performs underwater ballet, crochets, dabbles in photography, assists in costuming for a mermaid show, and spends her spare time(?) in reading.

Unusual? Perhaps. But Geanie, affectionately known as "Our Miss Brooks," knows what she wants to do and makes it her business to learn how to do it.

Geanie was born and raised here in Brooksville, Fla. She quit school at the age of 16—it was during World War II—studied welding and got a job in a Tampa shipyard. At night she studied accounting.

The war over, Geanie married Vernon Brooks, a lumberer. Together they built their own home. When that major task was completed, she spent her spare time operating a tractor and driving a heavy truck to help Vernon in his work.

About the time Shirley Ann, the first of four children, was due to arrive, Geanie switched to lighter tasks. She became a fruit packer. When she felt she wasn't able to keep pace with the other workers, she quit, studied her mistakes, and returned to work—the fastest packer in the plant.

In the next few years the Brooks family experienced rapid expansion. After Shirley Ann came Jimmy, and then Rebecca Jean. No sooner had Mrs. Brooks settled into a new job than Randy was born.

It was while filling in as waitress for a restaurant in Weeki Wachee, 12 miles from Brooksville, that Geanie came upon a new and exciting outlet for her energies. Well accustomed to being housemaid and nursemaid, she was invited to be mermaid at Weeki Wachee Springs.

The WW mermaids remain underwater for 30 minutes at a time, breathing air through rubber hoses. Air-hose breathing is quite a trick, even for accomplished swimmers.

And, in addition, the girls must perform underwater ballet numbers, eat, drink, and do a bit of clowning, all the while "smiling for the public."

When Geanie, who says she'll try anything, consented to become a mermaid, there was only one catch: she didn't know how to swim.

In a grueling training program, Geanie Brooks learned to swim and accomplished air-hose breathing in seven weeks. Today she can dive to 100 feet, release the air hose and slowly rise to the surface. While spectators sit breathless, she calmly performs a variety of graceful ballet poses, never seeming to run out of air.

When she takes a "busman's holiday," Geanie spends her days off spear fishing in the Gulf of Mexico.

Despite all her accomplishments, Geanie has set herself new goals for the future. True to her Jill-of-all-trades reputation, she hopes to master bookkeeping and accounting.

The Mature Parent

Child Fears the Chores We Moan and Groan About

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

OUR kitchen ceiling is quite high. Sometimes the light bulb in its fixture blows out.

I used to get out the shelf ladder, unfold it, climb its three steps—and reach, reach, reach to unscrew the fixture's glass shade. This done, I'd descend the ladder to place the shade and screws on the table. I'd thrust a new bulb down the neck of my dress (needing my hands to balance), remount and reach again to replace the old bulb with the new.

Again I'd come down and dispose of the old one. Again I'd ascend to refix the shade and its screws. Upon my final return to earth, I'd put the ladder away.

When a bulb blew out in our kitchen, I groaned and muttered.

ONE darkish afternoon not so long ago the bulb blew out just as Judy, my daughter, was preparing to ice some cupcakes for supper. With news of her emergency, she sought me in my workroom. Very busy and concentrated, I said shortly, "If the old bulb's gone, put in a new one."

Fifteen minutes later, as Judy placed a glass of milk and a cupcake beside me, she said, "Mother, I think you'd better write a column about changing light bulbs."

I swallowed cupcake, staring at her. "Why, I can't write about anything as silly as that," I said. "What's the matter with you? You know ..."

"You can," said my child firmly, "warn all mothers that if they are going to moan and groan when they do things, they can't expect their children to ever want to do the things. Do you realize that I changed the kitchen bulb for the first time in my whole life just now? It was fun doing it. But the way you moan and groan whenever you do it, I've always thought it was a terrible thing to have to do ..."

"Oh," I said. Then rallying a little, I murmured, "It's the ladder I don't like. It's rickety ..."

"No more rickety than anybody's ladder," retorted my child. "Goodness, how smart Tom Sawyer was! When he wanted the other kids to paint his fence for him, he acted as if he loved painting fences himself. He didn't moan and groan. So everyone wanted to help him ..."

Now when the kitchen bulb goes, I try not to groan and mutter. This experience is for a Mrs. C. who writes "How do you handle a child who says, 'Why don't you take the car?' whenever you ask her to do an errand?"

How glad has Mrs. C. been to walk to the store herself?

Tuesday Victory Makes the Bums Even Money To Repeat

By JOE REICHLER

Brooklyn, (P)—The home-loving Brooklyn Dodgers were back in business today.

Yesterday's 10-inning 1-0 triumph, featuring a high-tension pitching duel between Clem Labine and Bob Turley, not only squared the World Series at three victories each but made the Dodgers even money to repeat their 1955 success over the New York Yankees. In the seventh and deciding game, the issue was placed squarely in the hands of Don Newcombe, Brooklyn's 27-game-winning veteran, and Johnny Kucks, New York's 18-game-winning sophomore.

This was Newcombe's second series start. The big fellow, who has been accused, justly or unjustly, of not being able to win the big ones, absorbed an awful shellacking in the second game. Newk pitched 12 2/3 innings last Friday, and left with an 0-6 deficit after having been raked up for six hits. He was taken off the hook when the Dodgers roared back to outlast the Yankees 13-8. His complete series record is 0-3.

Manager Casey Stengel of the Yankees chose Kucks after deliberating between him and southpaw Whitey Ford. He finally decided on the young right-hander rather than risk his ace in "the shooting gallery" that is Ebbets Field.

"The schedule has me this year," Casey moaned. "My lefthander always comes due at Ebbets Field." Ford pitched the opener, in Ebbets Field, and lasted only three innings, bowing to Sal Maglie 6-3. Kucks has not started a game but he appeared twice in relief, yielding two runs and three hits in two innings of the first game, and in the second game, he faced one batter, giving up a single to Pee Wee Reese.

The increased use of fire retardant roofing as asphalt and asbestos shingles, slate and tile, is credited by fire protection authorities as being one of the principal safeguards against city-wide conflagrations once so common in America.

SPORTSMAN'S DIGEST

After a tiring day of hunting, no one feels like chopping firewood, or searching for dry wood when returning to camp. It's best to have the makings for a quick fire before you leave camp in the morning.

Don't retire at night without having wood at hand for next morning's fire (especially if it's cold weather).

If possible, keep some wood and fast-starting kindling in tent or cabin where it will stay dry—or dry out if wet.

Cut and stack a good supply of wood near door, cover with tarp, if need be, to keep it dry.

Series Briefs

By ED CORRIGAN
Brooklyn (P)—Johnny Kucks got the most important assignment of his brief big league pitching career today starting against the Brooklyn Dodgers in the deciding game of the World Series. "Was he nervous?" "Boy, am I!" he replied. "His opposite number, Don Newcombe, had hit me to say 'I'm ready,' he grunted, recalling, no doubt, that he lost three series games to the Yankees and has been taunted by fans as always losing the important games.

The subject of Sal Maglie crept into conversation concerning the final game. "I won't use him unless he comes to me and says he can pitch," said Walt Alston. "He rarely is any use with just one day rest."

Quickie interview with Carl Hubbell, New York Giants' farm director, who pitched a no-hitter once himself: "Don Larsen's no windup style is bound to be copied by a lot of pitchers. The batters can't tell when the ball is coming. It's hard enough to follow the ball but he rocks and rolls and you have to guess just when he's going to let it go, it becomes doubly tough."

How quickly the tide turns dept.: If the Brooks win today, one of the goals will be Enos Slaughter, the 40-year-old Yankee outfielder, who misjudged Jackie Robinson's game-winning hit yesterday. Only Sunday, he won a game with a homer and was a hero.

A record overlooked: Duke Snider of the Brooks broke the all-time record for strikeouts last Sunday when he fanned for the 31st time in series competition. Snider has struck out twice since then. The old record was 30 established by Baba Ruth in '35 series.

Swaps Believed Out of Racing for the Season

Camden, N. J., (P)—Swaps, the big California colt who has earned a big $849,000 in three years of racing, had a big ache today in one of the legs that helped make all that money.

The 1955 Kentucky Derby winner broke down yesterday during a workout at Garden State Park. Dr. George Palmer, Jr., a veterinarian at the track, diagnosed the injury as a ruptured blood vessel in the cannon bone region of the left hind leg.

The mishap apparently ruled out any chance that Swaps might run in the east again this season. He has been scheduled to race in the $50,000 Trenton Handicap here Oct. 24.

King Cotton and Spider Webb Will Tangle Tonight

Chicago, (P)—Charlie (King) Cotton, who scored successive victories over Joey Giardello last spring, and Spider Webb, aiming for his 15th straight decision, tangle tonight in a 10-round middleweight battle at Chicago Stadium.

Webb, former NCAA champion from Idaho State College who now lives in Chicago, is a 2-1 choice in the nationally televised scrap ABC, 9 p. m. EST.

Webb, who like his Toledo opponent is 25, is ranked No. 10 in the latest National Boxing Association. Spider has had only 13 pro fights, losing one, and scoring 11 knockouts. Cotton has won 41, 21 by knockouts, lost 11 and had 1 draw.

"I feel I've got at least one more good year in these old legs of mine," the superb Negro athlete said after delivering the blow which gave the Dodgers a 10-inning, series-knotting 1-0 victory yesterday in the sixth game of the World Series.

Figures Reveal

cluded the figure of $1.12 to be added to the per capita tax of the borough. Presumably this amount will have to be added to the $3.21 per $1000 of assessed valuation for property taxes as the per capita tax has reached its limit.

Present taxes include 26 mills for borough taxes, 25 mills for school taxes, six mills for county taxes and three mills poor tax, for a millage total of 59 per $1,000 assessed valuation.

Warren's personal or occupational taxes already include a $3 per capita tax, a $5 resident tax, and a $5 borough tax, which, when added to a six mill tax for county and a three mill tax for the poor, brought the average personal taxes for housewives last year to $16.70 and $18.40 for laborers. (Those amounts varied according to job classification.)

Possible costs of Warren's new high school building had been estimated to be about $2,500,000. Using that figure, it was estimated the state would reimburse the jointure some $2,040,000, or $1,700 for each of 1200 students.

Bonds, if they could be sold for four per cent, could be retired in 37 years for an annual cost of $137,068.

On the $157,068, a state reimbursement would return $66,536 to the district each year. The $90,532 difference would be made up from local taxes.

Over the 37 year period, then, using the $2,500,000 figure, the cost to Warren taxpayers would amount to an approximate $3,330,000 to retire the bonds.

By spending an estimated $1,789,700 to remodel the present structure instead of the proposed $2,306,000 for an entirely new building, the large savings possible become obvious.

The reputable firm of Lawrie and Green, designers of the modern Jefferson Street School, submitted the figures immediately above to the Joint Committee.

The Times-Mirror welcomes to its Editorial Offices any interested citizen who wishes to read the entire reports submitted by both architectural firms of Lawrie and Green of Harrisburg and Meyers, Krider, Werle and Ellenberger of Erie.

ers employed A. J. McDonnell, of the guidance office of Beatty Junior High School, as Probation Officer for Boys for Warren County.

Mr. Rasmussen said that the 1954 campaign and the 1955 campaign had each produced something over $5,000. Many church groups, Parent-Teacher organizations, Veterans organizations, Service Clubs and other groups interested in projects to serve the community, have established the principle of making a small gift to this fund every year. The latest organization to start giving annually is the Warren County Central Labor Council. Mr. Rasmussen said that, after attending the Charter presentation of the Warren County Central Labor Council, Judge Flick told him that this organization announced at the dinner that it would give $500.00 each year to this fund.

Judge Flick also stated that some advance gifts have been made for the 1956 campaign $10 from the Gerda DeForest Class of the First Presbyterian Church, and $30 from the First Lutheran Church Brotherhood. Judge Flick also announced that he had received $50 from Mr. and Mrs. Allan J. Scully of Pittsfield as a memorial gift for the late Percy D. Belknap. Mrs. Guy B. Mattack and Miss Beverly Richards.

Mr. Rasmussen told the Warren County Commissioners that the officers and directors of the Warren County Probation Association would request the Warren Rotary Club to put on the 1956 campaign for funds to the Permanent Endowment Fund sometime in November.

able" to businessmen the views expressed by Stevenson on the nation's economy. It appealed to "like-minded men and women in business to join in our effort."

Plans are to set up state groups similar to the national council. Clayton is the retired head of Anderson, Clayton & Co., cotton merchants, and is a former under-secretary of state. Kennedy, former ambassador to Britain and an international business figure, is the father of Sen. John B. Kennedy (D-Mass.).

In his Seattle rally speech, Stevenson defended his oft-repeated call for an end to nuclear tests. He said "Republican politicians, including the President" have greeted his proposal "only with sneers and astonishing distortion of what I said."

He said Eisenhower had implied "that even talking about this prejudices the nation's security." He said he was cheered that "many scientists do understand what is at stake here."

As far as the Eisenhower administration is concerned, he said, "I can't accept the apparent administration position that we are powerless to do anything to stop this heading nuclear arms race for extinction."

on Hickory street would not be big enough for a new Army and that a new and larger location would have to be found where plenty of land would be available. The committee will make its position known to the Federal Government through the Congressman from this District, Leon H. Gavin.

Clifford Johnson, chairman of the Transportation Committee of the Chamber reported to the Board that the Executive Committee of the Save Route 6 Committee would fly to Washington Thursday for a conference with the U. S. Bureau of Roads. The chairman of the committee, Harry Garvin and the attorney, Murray Garber, both of Bradford, will be in Warren tonight to speak before members of the three service clubs and other invited guests and will explain the reasons for the fight now underway to keep Route 6 on the Federal Interstate System of Highways.

Mr. Johnson reported that the Save Route 6 Committee has been successful in attempts to gain an appointment with Governor George Leader. The committee has made repeated requests to the Governor for an appointment so that it could present petitions containing some 10,000 signatures urging the Governor to retract his proposal that Route 6 be removed from the Interstate System in favor of a new road in Central Pennsylvania.

Robert Anstadt, chairman of the annual banquet said that plans are underway for the dinner on February 5 in Beatty Cafeteria at which time Chamber members will hear one of the nation's most famous after-dinner speakers.

Chester Hindenach and James Blomquist reported on the activities of the Housing Committee which is taking a survey among Chamber members and other family heads relative to the needs for current and future housing.

Executive Vice President Charles Tranter reported that the folder "Accommodations for Hunters, Fishermen and Tourists in Warren County" is now being printed and will be off the press in about a week. This year 7,000 of the folders will be distributed throughout this and nearby states.

United Lutherans Open National Convention

Harnsburg (AP)—A church flag flew in front of the State Capitol today as the United Lutherans began their national convention. An official said it was the first time a religious banner ever graced the seat of government.

The United Lutheran Church in America, whose 2,750,000 members make it the largest of 16 Lutheran bodies in the country, launched its 20th biennial sessions with a solemn communion service and week-long sessions emphasizing inter-church unity.

"Christian unity," said President Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, is "the issue of the hour."

Governor Leader, also a United Lutheran, gave the welcoming address at the opening business session this afternoon.

Hitler's Sister Plans Memoirs To Set Family Record Straight

Berchtesgaden, Germany (AP)—Adolph Hitler's sister said today she is writing her memoirs to set some of the record about her family straight.

"And the readers will forgive me if I abstain from depicting my brother at all costs as a wicked character, just for the sake of profit," she told a reporter.

"I must complete these memoirs. I owe it to the memory of my parents to tell the truth. So many distorted stories have been written in the postwar years that I have to set some facts straight about my parents, my youth and my brother."

Paula Hitler, whose name was changed to Paula Wolf on Hitler's orders in 1938, was interviewed at her home in this Alpine resort city.

She said she had been using the name Wolf for some time before 1938 because "I never liked to show off."

"I am a simple woman and I have always lived simply. I never had more than two rooms and a kitchen," the 60-year-old white-haired woman said.

Adolf Hitler probably will be declared dead officially later this month by a Munich court. Miss Wolf said she hoped she will then be allowed to take possession of a trunkful of Hitler keepsakes, including some water colors he painted, his World War I decorations and a Nazi party badge. These properties are held by the Bavarian state government.

Warren Man Flying To Capital To Boost Route

Clifford R. Johnson, Chairman of the Transportation Committee of the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce, will fly to Washington tomorrow morning with the executive committee of the "Save Route 6 Committee."

Mr. Johnson, who is also a member of the Warren County Motor Club board of directors, will join a delegation from Bradford, Meadville, Wellsboro, Scranton and other towns in the northern tier of Pennsylvania who have an appointment with the U. S. Bureau of Roads in the nation's capital.

The "Save Route 6 Committee" will discuss with federal road officials their objectives in keeping Route 6 in the Federal Interstate System of Highways even though Pennsylvania Governor George Leader has proposed that a central Pennsylvania road be substituted for Route 6.

The committee will return home tomorrow evening by plane to Mt. Alto airport.

and your used washer

Every item on this young miss can be washed automatically—and beautifully—in the new Maytag. It does the same three things you do when you hand-wash delicate things.

1. Gentle action. Maytag's "Modern Fabrics" cycle automatically slows agitation and spinning speed. Set wash time for as little as one minute, if you like.

2. Controlled water level. Maytag's exclusive Automatic Water Level Control matches water to the load. Set on low for small loads, save up to 11½ gallons!

3. Cold water wash and rinse. Push Maytag's "Cold" water button—wash even cashmere automatically! Perfect for all heat sensitive synthetics. (Choice of hot or warm water, too.) Maytag's Gyrafoam washing action is so thorough, regular fabrics get Maytag clean.
